Electrical fire sparked at RCC building in Medford

A building at Rogue Community College's Riverside Campus in downtown Medford campus was evacuated Tuesday when an electrical fire was reported on the second floor.

Firefighters responded at 4 p.m. to the call at the Higher Education Center, 101 S. Bartlett St. The fire department reported on social media that the problem was quickly isolated and staff and students were cleared to reenter the building.

A city representative said the fire appeared to originate in a microwave in a copy room. The cause of the fire is under investigation.
