Merkley planning town hall meetings in Ashland, Grants Pass on March 16

Daily Courier

U.S. Sen. Jeff Merkley will hold two town hall meetings in Southern Oregon next weekend.

The first will be at noon Sunday, March 16, in the main gym of Ashland High School at 201 S. Ashland Ave. in Ashland.

The second will also be at 4 p.m. the same day at the Redwood Campus of Rogue Community College in Grants Pass.

Both events are free and open to the public. Merkley's office said people should be prepared for the venues to hit capacity.

At recent town halls, Merkley has fielded questions about recent actions by President Donald Trump and Republican congressional majorities, including the impacts of mass firings of federal workers.

Merkley, a Portland Democrat who grew up in Southern Oregon, Merkley was first elected to the U.S. Senate in 2008 and is now in his third term.

In 2020, neither strongly Republican Josephine County nor moderately Republican Jackson County went for Merkley.

Merkley has held town halls in every one of Oregon's 36 counties each year since he was elected.

Office of U.S. Sen. Jeff Merkley U.S. Sen. Jeff Merkley has been seeing capacity crowds at recent town hall meetings in Oregon, including this stop at Clackamas Community College on Feb. 23. Merkley is scheduled to visit Ashland and Grants Pass for town hall meetings on March 16.
